

Publié sur La Vie des Classiques (<https://96.ip-213-32-20.eu>)

Accueil > De-engineering the Semantic Web: Linking Archaeological Data (Leif Isaksen)

DE-ENGINEERING THE SEMANTIC WEB: LINKING ARCHAEOLOGICAL DATA (LEIF ISAKSEN)

The Port Networks Project, a joint venture between a wide range of archaeological institutions, is using innovative computational methods known as Semantic Web technologies in order to synthesise the large volume of excavation data available from harbour excavations around the Mediterranean. This presentation focuses on the human-computer interface.
