INFORMATION SIGNALÉE PAR WILLIAM J. DOMINIK

LISBON FLAVIAN SEMINARS

The Centre for Classical Studies at the University of Lisbon is pleased to announce the launch of the Lisbon FLAVIAN Seminars. Scholars of the Flavian era are invited to participate in these online seminars.

The seminars are envisaged as a meeting point for all scholars who are interested in the Flavian era. They will be held online via Zoom (a link will be sent upon registration).

We hope that these online seminars might contribute to the discussion of issues of the Flavian era, including in such areas as literature, history and archaeology, that are of concern to scholars working in this area at a time when we are all constrained by the coronavirus from attending conferences and seminars in person.

The first seminar will take place as follows:

Alison Keith (University of Toronto)

Title: "Epicurean Sympathies in Martial's Epigrams"

Date: 25 September, 2020 (Friday)

Time: 3:00 pm (GMT+1)

All scholars who are interested in these online seminars are welcome to register with us. You can send a request for registration to one of the organisers below. (If you have previously sent a request to one of us, you do not need to send another request.)

We hope to see you at the online seminars!
